Nehmat Gereige

DESIGN MANAGER, CVENT
UX/UI DESIGN PROFESSOR, ALGONQUIN COLLEGE

Nehmat Gereige is a Design Manager at Cvent and a UX/UI Design Professor at Algonquin College, with 13 years of experience in design and a background in software engineering. She is also the creator of the YouTube channel @nehmatgereige, where she teaches designers how to work with AI. Known for making complex ideas accessible, she helps designers adapt to a fast-changing industry through practical, hands-on education. From research and ideation to prototyping and code, she explores how AI can support the design process, with a focus on helping designers strengthen their judgment, expand their capabilities, and shape their role in an AI-driven industry.
